THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

International Lesson for September 16, 1897—Paul's Address to the Ephesian Elders—Acts 20:17-35.
[Arranged from Peloubet's Notes.]
GOLDEN TEXT.—Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said: It is more blessed to give than to receive.—Acts 20:35.
THE SECTION includes the whole of chapter 20, together with a review of Lesson 15, concerning Paul's three years' residence at Ephesus (chap. 19).
EXPLANATORY.
Paul was expelled from Ephesus, after laboring there for three years. The next ten months were spent in Macedonia and Greece, in revisiting the churches he had founded four to six years before, on his second missionary journey. After three months at Corinth, Paul started on his journey to Jerusalem, hoping to reach there by Pentecost (v. 16). May 17, A. D. 58. He was going to carry the alms he had collected, as we learn from his address before Felix (Acts 24:17, and from Rom. 15:25, 26).
At Miletus, on Sunday, April 23, 58. There was a brief delay of the ship at Miletus. The time of the sailing of the ship was uncertain, so Paul, instead of going to Ephesus himself, sent for the leaders of that church to meet him at Miletus. Then followed one of the most touching and perfect addresses ever spoken.

PAUL'S CONFERENCE WITH THE ELDERS AT EPHESUS.
At Miletus, on Sunday, April 23, 58. There was a brief delay of the ship at Miletus. The time of the sailing of the ship was uncertain, so Paul, instead of going to Ephesus himself, sent for the leaders of that church to meet him at Miletus. Then followed one of the most touching and perfect addresses ever spoken.

I. A Review of the Past.—Vs. 18-21. (1) His life was open before them. (2) His work was amid many trials. (3) He supported himself by daily labor (v. 34). (4) He was humble and unselfish (vs. 19, 33). (5) He was faithful. (6) He labored publicly. (7) He went from house to house. (8) His teaching, repentance and faith.
II. The Present Outlook.—Vs. 22-30. 22. "I go bound in the spirit." "In his own spirit. Constrained by an invincible sense of duty."—M. R. Vincent. "Not knowing the things." What will be the particular events.
23. "Hath bonds." Chains, imprisonment, as at Caesarea and Rome. "Afflictions." Most of the lessons following in Acts are on account of these afflictions. "Abide me." There was some dark, unknown calamity looming up in the future, strange, indefinable, but terrible.
24. "None of these things move me:" from the path of duty. "So that I might finish my course." He speaks of his life under the figure of a race-course, in which as an athlete he is pressing toward the goal and the reward. "With joy." Of an accomplished work, of successful service; the joy of gaining the victory and winning the crown. "And the ministry." The service of God in bringing in His kingdom and leading men to Christ. "To testify." Paul did not originate the Gospel; he did not make his own doctrines; he only bore witness to what God had taught him.
25. "And now . . . I know." I am convinced, I feel sure. Not an inspired knowledge. "Shall see my face no more." He was going on toward prison and death.
26. "Wherefore I take you to record." I call you to witness. "I am pure from the blood of all men." The expression is borrowed from the crime of murder, as an innocent man would say: "Upon my garments is no stain of blood of men I have slain."
29. "For I know." both from observation and experience, and from the insight given by the Holy Spirit. "Shall grievous wolves." They were those who taught false doctrines, evil principles, and bad morals, and brought worldliness and contentions.
30. "Of your own selves." The wolves were enemies who came in from without, as Judaizing teachers; the men speaking perverse things grew up among the members of the church, and taught in the name of Christianity. "Perverse things." The most dangerous errors are truths distorted and perverted; truth enough to make some believe them, and error enough to injure or ruin those who do believe.

III. Parting Counsels in View of These Things.—Vs. 31-35. First, Watch. 31. "Therefore watch." The picture in this word is of a sleeping man rousing himself, on the alert, as a man on guard in the night.
Second, Remember, as an example, as an inspiration. Paul had been on the watch for the whole three years he was with them.
Third, Hope. 32. "To the word of His grace." The precious truths and promises which God has sent to us in His Word, and by His Lord Jesus Christ (John 1:1-14). "Able to build you up." The Christian is to be built up upon the foundation of Jesus Christ, like a temple, costly, beautiful, lighted, filled with worship and love.
Fourth, Work. 33, 34. "I have coveted," etc. I have sought you and not yours. And I have shown it as "ye yourselves know" by supporting myself by the labor of my hands at tent-making.
Fifth, Help Others. 35. "Ye ought to support the weak." That is, those unable, in consequence of physical infirmity, to labor for their own support. No Christian should labor chiefly for himself. "And to remember the words of the Lord Jesus." The words are not in our gospels. Schaff says that "outside the inspired memories of the gospels we possess the record of some 20 sayings of Jesus Christ which have floated down to us." "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Mechanics' Lien Law Decided Valid.
UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 13.—The circuit court Saturday morning rendered a decision in the case testing the constitutionality of the mechanics' lien law. The same court recently declared the subcontractor feature of the law unconstitutional and the supreme court affirmed the decision. The present case was to test the validity of the entire law and resulting in favor of the same the court holding that an unconstitutional feature does not affect the whole.
attempt to Rob at Express Train Frustrated.
LIMA, O., Sept. 13.—An attempt to rob the Wells Fargo express train on the Chicago & Erie road was frustrated near Forker, O., Sunday. A gang of 12 tramps were discovered on the train. The train was stopped and the men were ordered off, but instead of doing so they made a rush for one of the express cars. The messengers opened fire and held them at bay until the train started again, when the tramps made their escape. It is not known whether anyone was wounded or not.

A Murder at Daybreak.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 13.—A common little black dog was the cause of a brutal murder at daybreak Sunday morning. The victim was John Samuel Jackson, section foreman in the Richmond division of the Pan-handle road and the scene a few yards from his home in Norwood Heights. His slayer, an unknown man, escaped, although the murdered man's young son fired the contents of one barrel of a shotgun at him and a man who was with him.

Woman Arrested for Bigamy.
LOAN, O., Sept. 13.—A few years ago Louisa Joy married Charles Shoemaker, and shortly after Shoemaker was sent to the penitentiary for grand larceny. Recently Mrs. Shoemaker, without getting a divorce, married a stalwart Negro named Wm. Cloud. Sunday Mrs. Cloud, indicted for bigamy, was brought to Loan and placed in jail. Mrs. Cloud claims she thought the fact of her first husband being in the penitentiary was the same as a divorce.

Attempted Suicide by Throwing.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 13.—An unknown man jumped into the Eden park reservoir Saturday at 10 a. m. He was fished out by workmen and was almost dead. He was restored to consciousness on the bank. Assistant Park Superintendent Jones recognized him as a man who had been frequenting the park. The would-be suicide is middle-aged and two of his front teeth are missing. At the hospital it is believed that the stranger is a deaf mute.

Adopting English Pottery.
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 13.—Three weeks ago, at the headquarters in this city of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, an appeal was received from the Staffordshire district in England for aid. The first contribution, over $100, will be forwarded from the brotherhood headquarters Monday, and a second installment will be sent in two weeks more.

Shot His Mother.
STERNVILLE, O., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Sherman Blackburn, who resides near Toronto, this county, was fatally shot Sunday evening by her ten-year-old son, Willie, and is dying. The boy had taken a shotgun from the closet and placed a shell in one of the barrels. While fooling with the gun it was discharged, the contents striking his mother in the breast, inflicting a fatal wound.

Oldest Postmaster Dead.
STERNVILLE, O., Sept. 13.—W. H. Wallace, aged 80, of Hammondsville, this county, the oldest postmaster in the United States, is dead. He was appointed assistant postmaster by Gen. Jackson in 1830 and has served under 14 postmaster generals, including the present incumbent. He named the town where he lived and died.

Newer Pipe and Brick Works Barred.
ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 13.—The A. O. Jones sewer pipe and paving brick works, one of the largest of the kind in the city, giving employment to about 140 people was burned. The fire started shortly after midnight in the boiler room. The loss complete amounting to $50,000 in uncompleted ware, buildings and machinery.

A Woman's Strong Constitution Wrecked.

Effects of a Treacherous Disease.

A Wonderful Case.

From the Bulletin, Monroe, La.
Mrs. Stephen Robbins is the wife of a prominent farmer living on a large and well-kept plantation just at the edge of Monroe, La. They have resided in this community but two years, having moved here from Illinois. The change was made for the benefit of Mrs. Robbins' health, her physicians having advised her that it was the only hope of her ever regaining her lost health.
"Three years ago this last winter," said Mrs. Robbins, "I was very sick with that most treacherous disease, the grippe. I had a very severe time with it, but was able to get out after being confined to my home several weeks. I think I went out too soon, for I immediately contracted a cold and had a relapse, which is a common occurrence with that disease. For several more weeks I was confined to the house; and after this I did not fully recover until recently. I was able to get out again, but I was quite a different woman.
"My former strong constitution was wrecked, and I was a dwindling mass of skin and bones. My blood was thin and I had grown pale and sallow. My lungs were so affected that I thought I was going into consumption. During my illness I had lost thirty pounds in weight. I tried to regain my strength and former good health by trying different medicines and physicians, but nothing seemed to help me. My appetite was gone, and when I ate the food it would not stay on my stomach.
"The only thing my physician said for me to do was to take a change of climate, and on his advice I came here. At first I seemed benefited, but to my sorrow it proved to be only temporary, and in a few months I was in the same condition. The color had left my cheeks, I had no energy, and life was a misery. I had become a burden to myself and family. Finally I happened to read in a newspaper of how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had effected a miraculous cure with the same disease which a neighbor of mine had in Illinois.
"On the strength of this testimonial I decided at once to give the medicine a trial. I accordingly sent for a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and gave the pills a thorough trial. I did not notice any change till I had tried the second box. I was discouraged a little with the result of the first box, but knowing that I should not expect a sudden cure of such a chronic case as mine, I tried the second box with the result that I immediately began getting better. I used five boxes of these pills and was completely cured, as you see me to-day, weighing more than ever before."
As evidence of the truthfulness of her story Mrs. Robbins volunteered to make the following sworn statement:
"I hereby affirm that the above statement is every word exact and true."
"MRS. STEPHEN ROBBINS.
"Monroe, La., March 2, 1897."
"Subscribed and sworn to before me, a Notary Public in and for the Parish of Winn, State of Louisiana, this 2d day of March, 1897."
"AMOS R. JENKINS, Notary Public."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Each Pill is sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 80 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

John R. McLean's Methods.

From Bosses and Boodle, by Allen O. Myers, we take the following:
"John R. McLean is one of the most remarkable enigmas Ohio has ever produced. His father . . . became interested in politics and purchased an interest in the Cincinnati Enquirer. The son attended the schools in Cincinnati and for a brief period was a student at Yale. He was bright, quick and full of animal life. He had no passion for books. He loved outdoor sports and preferred a game of baseball or glove contest to poetry, prose or problems. He had one over ruling passion as a boy. It was in accord with the spirit of the age. He wanted to be rich. He wanted to be rich quick. Mr. McLean is not a miser. He does not love money for itself. He worships it for the power it brings. With it he believes anything is possible. Without it he doubts anything can be achieved. He has no morals. He is a stranger to sentiment. He is not deterred by scruples. If he has an object in view and has money to buy it, in his code of life no law, no man, no community has ever a right to question his act. He believes every man has his price. He goes straight to results and cares nothing about public opinion, methods or the right of others. When he can get or has got what he wants, he pays for it promptly and liberally.
"It don't seem possible that such a character can exist in an enlightened age. But John R. McLean is a fact. His existence must be acknowledged. It may be studied but not denied. . . . At 25, by purchase and gift from his father and uncle, he had acquired a majority of stock and control of the Cincinnati Enquirer. He did not know much about the newspaper business, but he had an instinctive knowledge of the force and value of men. He watched the paper's finances and guided its destiny at all times himself. The paper prospered. Everything he touched turned to gold. At 35 he had realized the dream of his boyhood—he was a millionaire. But he was suffering with a new disease. He had the passion for accumulation. He wanted more, he said, and he could not get enough. They never do. They never can. With his money and his newspaper (?) John R. McLean has become one of the most potent factors in the business and political affairs in Ohio.
"There were many Democrats who revolted at Mr. McLean's methods as an editor and as a Democrat. In this they did him an injustice. Mr. McLean never had any political convictions. The passing views he may have had from day to day he discarded when he changed his shirt. He never had any convictions on any question. He had neither time nor disposition to be troubled with them. He could not use them in his business, but could use and abuse himself with the party. As an organization, it was an instrument in his hands to punish his own and his father's enemies. He had no friends to reward. He hired his men and when the money was paid the contract was closed. But there were a great many men who both hated and feared McLean and his newspaper."

There is a Class of People

Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over 1/2 as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

"Hello, Smith," said Brown, "gone to housekeeping? I didn't know you were married."
"I'm not yet."
"What are you doing with that candy and meat, then?"
"Going to see my girl."
"Do you have to furnish the family with meat already?"
"Oh, no; the candy is for the girl and the meat is for the dog I have to sustain."

SOUTH DAKOTA PAYS ITS DEBTS.

Farmers are Paying off Mortgages at a Rapid Rate and Times are Better.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 13.—"The people of South Dakota have, in the last four years, paid off $50,000,000 of their debts," said Dr. D. L. McKinney, one of the best known loan agents of the State, "and they are now paying off at a very rapid rate. As things are now going the people of the State, especially the farmers will soon be out of debt. The large crops of the last few years, coupled with the close times, have had the effect of giving the people an appetite for getting out of debt, and fortunately has also given them the ability to do so."
Mark Russell, who represents a loan company which has several million dollars loaned on farm property in South Dakota, adds his testimony to that of Dr. McKinney. Mr. Russell's company stands ready to and is anxious to place from $50,000 to $75,000 yearly on South Dakota farm property, but the agent complains that he cannot find takers for one-third the amount he would like to loan.
"Our company has 1,500 loans in this State on farm lands," said Mr. Russell, "and we have not had over fifty foreclosures in seven years. The company does not own a foot of land in the State and never lost a cent on a loan."—Chicago Tribune.

That portion of South Dakota which is traversed by the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway is the finest agricultural and stock growing section of the western country. For "Letters from Farmers," printed in pamphlet form, finely illustrated, and descriptions of farm lands, address Geo. H. Headford, General Passenger Agent, Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill. Now is the time to look for homes in South Dakota, where land is cheap and good.

Visitors To Lincoln Park in Chicago Will be delighted with the souvenir book of this beautiful spot now being distributed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company. It is a magnificent publication of 66 pages full of overflowing with delicious half tone pictures of one of Creation's most charming places of resort for citizens of the Great Republic.
No stranger visiting Chicago should be without a copy of the "Souvenir of Lincoln Park." It can only be procured by enclosing twenty five cents, in coin or postage stamps, to Geo. H. Headford, general passenger agent, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill.
Are now the two principle gold mining fields in the world. We can give you information about both, but as the Klondyke Country will be impenetrable until next summer, why not go to Colorado this fall and look over the golden opportunities of that State.
It is cheaper and easier to go to Colorado, and we will venture dollars to doughnuts that more net money can be made in Colorado in twelve months, with less capital, than in the outskirts of the Arctic Circle during the same period, at forty times the expense.
Ask the nearest agent for the price of tickets to Denver, Leadville or Oripple Creek, and tell him to send you via Chicago and Omaha over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y, in the through sleeping car from Chicago to Denver.

Mr. Bryan, it is said, has been induced to make one speech in Ohio during this campaign. The "inducement" is in the shape of a $1,500 check, certified by "Senator" McLean and "Governor" Chapman.
Moments are useless if trifled away; and they are dangerously wasted if consumed by delay in cases where one minute counts. One would bring immediate relief.

What two fruits go best together, Miss Somergrill? said Cholly Pierite as they bent their steps in the direction of the rocks.
"I don't know," replied the sweet one, unsuspectingly. "What is the best combination?"
"Why, a date with a peach, of course," a returned Cholly, with the air of a man who was making the hit of his life and knew it.—Town Topics.

If you have ever seen a little child in a paroxysm of whooping cough, or if you have been annoyed by a constant tickling in the throat, you can appreciate the value of One Minute Cough Cure which gives quick relief. W. R. Smith & Co., Druggists.

The characteristic of the campaign Senatorial and gubernatorial in Ohio that makes it notorious throughout the country—and will soon give it a still larger celebrity—is its nationality. It is national not only because Ohio is a remarkably representative State, but because the political character of the Senate in the great questions involving honest money may, and will in all probability, turn upon Ohio's choice of a Senator.

Certainly you don't want to suffer with dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, sallow skin and loss of appetite. You have never tried DeWitt's Little Early Risers for these complaints or you would have been cured. They are small pills but great regulators. W. R. Smith & Co., Druggists.
